FRANK E. HOWE, Editor and Pub.

Tuesday November 16, 1915.

Every year with the coming of cold weather the number of fires in dwelling houses doubles, triples or quadruples. This increase is due wholly to defective flues. As houses get old the chimneys often get porous and shaky. Stove-pipe frequently rusts out during the dampness of dog days, and flues which go through wooden partitions in early fall with immunity and safety are dangerous when we begin to force the fires as we are compelled to when Jack Frost gets boisterous and offensive. Every homeowner and every renter should examine his chimneys and other flues at this season of the year, or have it done by some competent person. A little care thus exercised may save your home and household goods some bitter cold night in winter.

"By hanging on the walls of our hotels pictures of hotels in other states, mountains and lakes far away, sea views, and ocean steamers we are exporting every vacation land except our own. Pictures and maps of the vicinity within easy access on foot, by train or auto, by canoe or steamer, will transform the casual visitor for a morning or a night into the guest who spends days or weeks in study of the fascinating region in which he has had the good fortune to find himself. Pictures and maps of the attractions of other parts of Vermont will influence the traveler to explore every corner of picturesque Vermont, utterly unwilling to leave a state which has won him as a summer citizen." This message is sent out by the Greater Vermont association and it is another of the splendid suggestions made by Secretary Taylor of this association. Not only should the agitation include hotel lobbies, but also railroad stations, boat landings and other places where travelers assemble. Even in hotel sleeping rooms an attractive photo or other picture of a Vermont scene would be more restful and enticing than the colorless prints of cheap foreign paintings usually found there. We should not shut out pictures of scenery and things of interest from the other states or in Canada for they are our neighbors and our friends and we wish to do as we would be done by, but the Vermont natural attractions are equal or superior to those of our neighbors and by hanging the home pictures alongside we can constantly help the development of our own good old state.

EARL OF SEAFIELD KILLED

London, Nov. 17.—James Ogilvie Grant, earl of Seafeld, has been killed in action in France. The earl of Seafeld was born in 1876 and was the 11th of his line, was a captain of the 3d (Queen's Own) Cameron Highlanders, special reserve, when the war began. He was married in 1898 to Miss Nina Townsend, daughter of J. P. Townsend, justice of the peace of the colony of New Zealand, who survives him with a daughter. The heir to the title is his brother, Trevor Ogilvie Grant. His daughter succeeds to the Scottish peerages.

Hair And Scalp Need Daily Care

Beautiful Hair is Within the Reach of All.

If you value the appearance of your hair you should treat your scalp as often and well as you brush your teeth and rub into the scalp pores twice daily a little Parisian Sage. This treatment is not a mere "hair tonic." It is bottled nourishment for the hair roots and it is simply wonderful what an improvement its use for even a week will make in the appearance of anyone's hair. It never injures, is delightfully cool and pleasant to the scalp and takes out the dull, lifeless look in the hair, making it soft, fluffy, glossy and beautiful. Two or three applications remove every trace of dandruff, and daily use will prevent its return. W. L. Gokay and the leading druggists everywhere can furnish you with Parisian Sage—it costs but a trifle.

Deafness Cannot Be Cured

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a running ear or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube returned to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever. Nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces. We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.

Tells Wilmington To Hurry

Two weeks ago over 50 Wilmington men dropped work for the day and went to Brattleboro to assist in furthering the project for a better highway between Bennington and Brattleboro, via Wilmington. Enthusiasm ran high and there were prospects of immediate action on the part of the local delegation. Since that time there has been no local action looking toward eventual beginning of the work. The only step in this direction has been taken by Hosen Mann, who has come to the front with an offer of $1,100 for good roads work in this vicinity and on the cross-state highway. Which, though he says it is made purely and simply as a business proposition, is none the less commendable.

Wilmington will undoubtedly eventually be found working hard for the consummation of the wished-for road, but the present is none too early for a beginning. Organization work must be started sometime and the sooner it is begun the sooner Wilmington will be in a position to point out its needs to the state highway commission with a better chance of seeing them filled than if planning and organization is put off to the last minute. Last minute plans are quite likely to become lost sight of before the carefully matured, well thought out plans of places taking time by the forelock and even if not entirely lost to sight may, when presented in allspood form, be only lightly considered.

Hosen Mann's offer of $1,100 for road work gives Wilmington a better vantage from which to begin work than other towns on the proposed line of the highway and which should be pursued, not next spring, but now. Do it now is a motto that may be applied in all its fulness to the work in hand, a work destined to be of great benefit, not alone to Wilmington, Bennington and Brattleboro but to the entire southern end of the state. Naturally, the places on the line of the road will benefit in direct measure to a greater extent than towns off the route, but what is of material aid to one will in more or less measure benefit the other. For this reason, if for none other, Wilmington needs to awaken to a realization of the need for comprehensive planning in advance of the work of construction and repair; above all, for the need of the road, be it, as has been suggested, the Ethan Allen Highway or some other name. Do it now is peculiarly applicable to the work in hand and Wilmington needs the spirit—Wilmington Times.

CONDITIONS IN GERMANY

Good Crops and Factories Running. Says Letter Written to Conway

John Miller, of Conway received a letter, dated October 20, from his sister in Germany yesterday. She says that they have had bumper crops, that food is plentiful, the factories are all running steadily and business goes on as usual. The only realization they have of the war going on is the coming of the wounded and cripples back from the front. Ebingen, Wurtemberg, where she lives, have about 12,000 population and the losses from this town to date are about 125. Her two sons have both been killed, one who was in the artillery at the beginning of the war at the siege of Liege, and the other in the campaign in Russian Poland.

His brother's son, Frederick Miller, brought down a French aeroplane and won the iron cross and was promoted to 1st Lieutenant. There are three camps in the neighborhood of Ebingen of Russian, French and English prisoners.
